LAND OPERATIONS

Japan is Landing Her Fourth Army in Corea.

WOUNDED MEN SENT NORTH

The Expected Attack on Port Arthur on Saturday Did Not Come Off, Though Togo's Fleet Was Seen From the City.

Watching the City

Paris, April 9.—A despatch to the Times from St. Petersburg says some of the enemy's ships appeared before Port Arthur last night, but retired when discovered by the electric searchlight.

Togo the Disturbing Factor

New Chwang, April 9.—General Kuropatkin went north this afternoon to Lien Yang, accompanied by Major General Anisimoff, Lieut. General Linsvitch, and one-half the members of his staff.

The best military commanders, it is learned, are not much disturbed because of the Japanese advance on the Yalu river, which was not only looked for, but permitted on the advice of the war board.

The disturbing factors are Admiral Togo's fleet and the missing army corps of Japanese.

The Japanese vessels were sighted again this morning twenty miles off Laio Then Shan promontory.

They have now been between Port Arthur and the Lan Islands for three days, and it is believed they are getting ready to cover the operations of a large landing force, beginning, perhaps, by an attack upon Port Arthur.

Japs Did Not Attack

St. Petersburg, April 11.—The generally anticipated attack on Port Arthur did not occur last night. A telegram received from Grand Duke Cyril reports that the enemy's ships were sighted on the horizon. It is presumed that the Japanese were aware of the extra precautions which had been taken to guard against a surprise.

The Victims of War

Tien Tsin, April 10.—It is reported from Mukden that two trains containing a large number of Russians who were wounded in an engagement on the Yalu, have passed through there on the way to Harbin.

Reinforcing New Chwang

London, April 11.—A correspondent of the Times at Chefoo says that two thousand Russian artillerymen with 60 guns arrived at New Chwang Thursday last.

The Times' correspondent at Seoul, cabling via Wei Hei Wei, reports a typhoon lasting for two days, which prevented naval operations.

Fourth Army Division Laddering

Seoul, April 10.—The fourth division of the Japanese army is landing in the northern part of Corea at several points.

With it go the first batch of foreign correspondents. The majority of them have been living in Tokio for months past and it is thought they held a sort of prescriptive claim, therefore they will accompany the first army.

The weather, however, is rainy and this batch may have some further leisure on the banks of the Yalu.

The first army headquarters will move north of Ping Yang at an early date. The ice is moving into the main stream of the Yalu, which blocks the passage of troops.

The Russians are sending artillerymen to reinforce New Chwang.

A Russian admiral says the Baltic squadron may not go to the far east.

The mysterious movements of the Japanese fleet off Port Arthur greatly disturb the Russian military chiefs.

The fourth army division is now landing in northern Corea and is accompanied by the war correspondents.

NO INQUEST

CONSIDERED NECESSARY

Coroner Finds It Not Necessary to Hold Inquest Over the Late J. J. Henager.

No inquest was considered necessary in the case of J. J. Henager, the unfortunate man who was found in a dying condition on Saturday in a shack in the rear of the Great West Land Company's block.

About half past one to his fellow roomer, W. P. McDonald, deceased had expressed his intention of making way with himself. Mr. McDonald, though not taking it seriously at first, finally grew suspicious and went down street for Chief of Police Dean. When they arrived but a few minutes later, the unfortunate man was lying on the bed apparently dying. Coroner Braithwaite and Dr. Hyslop were summoned and were on the spot probably not ten minutes after the poison had been taken. The condition of the sufferer indicated that he had taken carbolic acid, and though every effort was made to counteract the poison, he expired about an hour afterward. The police at once took the body in charge and arrangements were made for interment.

Under the circumstances it was not considered necessary to hold an inquest.

Deceased was apparently a middle-aged man and came to Edmonton from Rossland, B. C., about a year since. He was a married man and his family from whom he had been separated for some time, reside in the United States. He was a ticket-of-leave man and was required to report to the police every month.

No definite cause for the rash act is known, though deceased is reported to have undergone financial troubles since coming here. No papers throwing light on the matter were found, and except the remark made to Mr. McDonald he is not known to have expressed any intentions of taking his own life. Parties with whom Henager conversed Saturday forenoon saw nothing unusual in his demeanor, nor did he, either in appearance or conversation, indicate depression or agitation.

VICTORIA SCANDAL

WILL BE VENTILATED

Ex-Mayor McCandless Wants Full Investigation of the Charges Against Him.

(Bulletin Special Dispatch).

Victoria, April 9.—Ex-Mayor McCandless tonight gave notice that he has demanded a thorough investigation into the serious allegations made against his honor and integrity by Police Magistrate Halls, whose strictures upon McCandless and his adherents in issuing, as he alleges, licenses to Chinese to sell whiskey to white men at five dollars per license, whereas civil licenses to white men to sell whiskey are issued for $300, caused a profound sensation in the city.

The investigation will take place during the coming week and promises to be one of the most startling revelations of corruption in certain quarters, ever known in Western Canada.

—The regular meeting of the Women's Christian Temperance Union will be held in the Young Men's club room in the old Methodist church on First street, at 3:30 p.m. on Wednesday, the 13th inst. All interested in the work are welcome.

—Probs: The weather throughout the territories generally yesterday was warm, the thermometer registering 64 at Medicine Hat and 59 at Calgary. In Manitoba it was not so warm and a slight snowfall occurred at night. The outlook is for warm weather generally.

—Fort Saskatchewan Reporter: A letter from Mrs. J. W. Shera says that Mr. Shera is out of the hospital and although very weak, he is progressing favorably. We hope to see Mr. and Mrs. Shera back before long.

—A team of horses stepped in a hole on First street Saturday, where the earth around a sewer pipe had caved in. The horses were badly mixed up and considerable damage had resulted but for the arrival of timely assistance.

—Plunderer: Mr. A. J. Huff was on the streets of Strathcona Wednesday for the first time in three months, having spent those months in the hospital in Edmonton, first as a victim of pneumonia, then scarlet fever and after that suffered an absence of the right lung.

—Lethbridge News: We understand a lease of the Blood reserve has been obtained by Messrs. T. Brown and Gordon & Ironside, who will put seven thousand head of Mexican cattle on the range. The first shipment of one thousand head is expected next week and will be unloaded at Pearce.

—Several baseball enthusiasts have asked the Bulletin to suggest again the reorganization of the summer sports. Edmonton has led all the western towns during the past winter in her hockey record and it is up to the footballists, lacrosse men and baseballists, etc., to keep the flag floating.

—The water in the river rose considerably yesterday and the first break in the ice occurred just below the bridge, where several large cakes have been heaved up on the surface of the main sheet. Wide stretches of open water now reach along the banks and the ice shows signs of decay which presage an early break up should warm weather and high water continue.

—Certain indications in this locality of coal oil deposits have induced Mr. A. W. Taylor to send for some eastern experts who are now at the coast in Washington state, with a view to commencing preliminary operations in order to ascertain the extent and commercial value of the deposits mentioned. It is thought that the indications near Morinville are worthy of attention.

—Calgary Herald: A petition lies for signature at the office of Bernard & Bernard, advocates, Calgary, praying the Northwest government to construct a steel traffic bridge over the Bow river, near the Industrial school, to accommodate the numerous settlers residing east of the Bow river, who are at present obliged to go a round of six miles in order to reach Calgary. All interested should affix their signatures to the petition at once.

—J. Woods came in from Athabasca Landing last week to look after the machinery for the boat being built by him for Mr. J. Cornwall. The steamer, which is designed for operation on the Athabasca and its connecting systems of waterways, has been practically completed and now awaits the installation of the boilers and engines. These arrived in Edmonton about the middle of the week and will be taken to the Landing as soon as the roads are in fit condition. There are two 60 horse power boilers, the engine being 25 horse power.

—At the concluding performance of the Chimes of Normandy on Saturday evening, Robertson hall was again filled to the doors. The rendition of the opera was fully the best of the season. During the performance Mrs. Green and Mrs. Bennett were called to the footlights and made the recipients of magnificent bouquets. At the close Mr. Barford was compelled to respond to an enthusiastic ovation, which he did in fitting terms. Mr. day was also called on and given an oration and a rousing rendition of He's a Jolly Good Fellow. The society received many requests to repeat the opera this evening, but the hall being engaged this will not be done.
